

Finger Play - source unknown -

A wee little Man (thumb)

in his wee little house (cover w/ arch of other thumb pointer)

lives down the road you see

(hands make winding)
road away

He sits by his window

the live long day (hands cupped around face)

making shoes for you and me

(point to them & back to you)

He puts his needle in and out the thread flies to and fro

(left hand pinched
holding the cloth;
right hand holds needle
& stitches

And if you listen carefully

you can hear his hammer go

(ear cupped to listen)

A rat a tat a tat

A rat a tat a tat

(pointer & tall man hammering o ther " " " " )

a tick a tack a too

(pointers alternating touching)

and now you have a shoe
