Student Enrollment

Acceptance into the Olympia Waldorf School is conditional upon an interview between the faculty and the family. Once the faculty and parents mutually agree that Olympia Waldorf School is a good fit for the child, enrollment may be secured by paying a non-refundable Enrollment fee of $125 (plus $25 per additional siblings) and a Capital Projects fee of $250 per family. Supply fees are added to the tuition contract and will be billed according to the payment plan selected on your contract. All fees are non-refundable.

Parent Volunteerism

Enrolling your child in a Waldorf school requires parent involvement. Private education cannot exist by virtue of tuition alone; both private and public schools owe much to their large pool of parent volunteers. The parents of the Olympia Waldorf School provide consistent service to the school by helping with school fundraisers, participating in committees, assisting in the maintenance of the school grounds and buildings, supporting the festivals and attending regular classroom parent evenings throughout the school year.
